

Waveaxis Technologies Pvt. Ltd. is a leading software company providing services pertaining to Internet of Thing, Computer Vision, Machine Learning, Cloud computing, Mobile and Web Application and software development services.

We have worked with Abheek and his team at Robots Alive between 2011 and 2014 with various opportunities related to computer / machine vision systems.

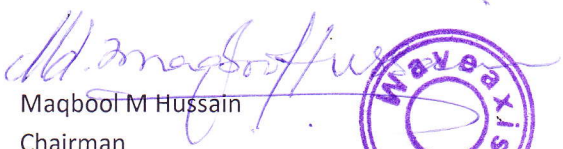

Most of our machine vision solutions required robotics and material handling solutions which was efficiently provided by Abheek and his team.

We have found Abheek to have a very strong grasp of the fundamentals of engineering and he has always been able to provide efficient solutions which have a good balance of both performance and budget.

His work ethic is also commendable and he has always taken a very hands-on approach towards implementing the solutions on site.

We definitely value Abheek's contributions and his expertise and would strongly recommend him for technical management roles, especially when solution building and novel thinking is required
